Normally, the easiest way to add a bibliography file is to add a document in Overleaf and select Zotero or Mendeley. If you prefer working from your machine (on e.g., TeXShop or MikTeX), exporting your local machine library is easiest. You may want to install something like Better BibTeX to automatically update your .bib in this case.

Cite articles as Ostrom (1990) for author (year) citations, or you can add a parenthetical citation with (Ostrom, 1990).
